FEEDBACK IS FERTILIZER

AND SOMETIMES IT STINKS

shawneeharle.com

- If feedback is so great, why do so few people like it?
- If it's so important for the growth of your athletes, why aren't they lined up, asking for more?
- If we know it's crucial for their development, why doesn't it immediately change their behaviour?

It's time to master the art of feedback. Not only is it easier than you think, it's an absolute necessity for you and your athletes to grow. This workshop will help you:

- Examine the current, outdated model
- Uncover why this outdated model wilts your athletes
- Learn to deliver feedback that grows your athletes

Feedback is fertilizer and when done well, it never stinks.

Join Shawnee for a 60 minute, interactive workshop and learn to "unstink" your feedback.
